FALL OF MONASTIR TO ALLIES WITHIN THREE DAYS SEEN

French, Italian, Russian and Serbian Forces Continue Advance on City, London Claims

HOLD FALL IMPORTANT

Moral Effect on Bulgarians of Loss of City Dwelt on Strongly by the Allied Leaders

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Fall of Monastir within three days was confidently predicted here Friday with receipt of fresh news of the victorious progress toward the Macedonian city of French, Italian, Russian and Serbian forces. Fighting through snow, sleet and mud the four allies have impetuously swung twice in flanking movements of gigantic magnitudes and have a vise-like grip on the Monastir neighborhood.

General Serrail refused to be drawn into attacking the Bulgarian defenses to the south of Monastir—defenses which Sofia some time ago pronounced impregnable—and according to all reports which reach here has forced retirement of the Bulgarian-Teuton defenders from these positions without their hardly striking a blow, by threat of strong enveloping movement.

Fall of Monastir will be a distinct blow at Bulgarian pride and experts predicted another appeal from Sofia for German assistance in retaking the city. It's natural importance is not great but Bulgaria apparently attaches sentimental value to holding of the city.

One immediate effect of the allies' advance, it was expected here, would be relief from General Von Falkenhayn's forward movement into Rumania. Military observers believe some of his forces will be diverted to render assistance to the retreating Bulgarians north of Monastir. Just now Rumania is feeling the effect of this strong movement southward of the Teutonic forces. Von Falkenhayn having crossed the Carpathians and advanced a score or more miles across the frontier, occupying a position where he now threatens a flanking movement of the Rumanian line on the Danube.

Considerable activity, coincident with the Monastir advance, is also reported from the British force operating to the east of the Struma river. This army has also made distinct advances.

Serbs Claim Two Villages

ROME, Nov. 17.—Dispatches from Salonika Friday said the Serbians had occupied the towns of Kenali and Mesozioi in their advance toward Monastir.

Kenali and Mesozioi are both situated several miles below the line of advance of the allies fixed in latest official statements from Sofia, Paris and London. It may be that the allies advanced around the towns and left formal occupation until a later time.

Claim Attacks Repulsed

BERLIN, via Saville Wireless, Nov. 17.—Repulse of British infantry attacks preceded by artillery fire, near Bessacourt and vigorous artillery duels along both banks of the Somme, were detailed in the official statement Friday.

Claim Further Advance

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Further advance of Teutonic troops south of Eoternum pass in Rumania was detailed in the German official statement Friday which charged frontier warfare by Rumanian people. General von Mackensen reported lively artillery exchanges and from the Macedonian front repulse of allied attacks was asserted.

HENNEPIN COUNTY ADDS SLIGHTLY TO THE HUGHES' LEAD

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 17.—Official recount of Hennepin county (Minneapolis) figures Friday slightly increased Hughes' lead in Minnesota upon the face of the United Press figures. Hughes was leading by 480. Hughes' vote was 179,541; Wilson's 179,061. None of the three precincts missing Thursday has reported.

Widows' Pensions Must Stop Unless Board Gets Busy

Unless the county board of supervisors appropriates the sum of $1,454 for mothers' pensions for the balance of 1916, pensions will not be paid by Judge Brindley, the judge intimated in a report to the board on Friday morning.

The sum of $6,446 has already been spent this year, and Judge Brindley estimates that $7,900 will be needed for the entire twelve months. He recommends that $10,000 be appropriated for the mothers' pension fund for La Crosse county in 1917.

LA CROSSE TROOPS WILL LEAVE FORT SAMHOUSTON ON HOME TRIP EARLY NEXT WEEK SAYS COLONEL

WAR DEPARTMENT ORDER RECEIVED AT SAN ANTONIO

Not Believed They Can Get to La Crosse Before Fort-night After Leaving Border

LEAVES 100,000 ON BORDER

Texas Officers Unable to Say if Movement Presages Entire Removal of the Troops

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 17.—The Third Wisconsin infantry regiment will break camp early next week under an order received from the war department yesterday, it was declared by Col. R. A. Richards, Sparta, Wis., Friday.

The Third Wisconsin has companies from Neillsville, Mauston, Portage, Wausau, Hudson, Eau Claire, Menominee, Superior, La Crosse, Tomah, Sparta; headquarters company at Eau Claire; machine gun company, Rice Lake; supply company, Superior.

Second State Unit Returned

The Third regiment is the second Wisconsin unit to be returned to its home since the mobilization in June. Battery A, Milwaukee was returned from the border a month ago.

The two other Wisconsin regiments, and the field hospital, are not included in the order. Only the Third regiment is to return at this time. Why the Third regiment was singled out is not known, although the members of the Third, of course, feel that their proficiency is so marked that the government admits they don't need any more training. The camp of the Third was a scene of wild jubilation when the news of their return was received. The telegraph office in San Antonio was swamped with messages to the home folks, telling them that the home journey was about to start.

Work was started at once in preparation for breaking camp. The drill routine which has been unchanged since the boys returned from the Austin hike was set aside, and checking over property to see that everything is shipshape began at once.

Picked by Funston

The five infantry regiments ordered home from the border on Thursday by the war department were selected by Gen. Funston from the troops on patrol duty at the request of the department to designate the number of organizations for release.

Staff officers professed ignorance of the reason for the return movement at this time. They were also at a loss to know whether the order is the beginning of a general return movement of state troops engaged in border patrol work. It was submitted in military circles that there are no state troops to take the place of those relieved, unless regiments that have already seen border service are sent back.

The time of departure of the five regiments ordered home will depend on the rapidity with which railroad stock is assembled for the movements.

In selecting the five regiments from among the many on border service, Gen. Funston gave considerable thought to the length of service of troops from various states, and was also heavily governed by knowledge of states that had benefited in earlier return movements.

Five Regiments Sent Home

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—Five National guard regiments were ordered home from the Mexican border Thursday. They are the First South Carolina, Seventh New York, Third Indiana, Third Wisconsin and Third Minnesota.

In a statement announcing the order, the war department said it was in continuation of the policy "announced some time ago to gradually withdraw National guard regiments from the border as conditions permit and, in accordance with the recommendation of Gen. Funston, these regiments have been ordered home."

Say Policy Same

War department officials said the order did not indicate any change in policy, or general withdrawal of guardsmen from the border and had no relation to the proceedings of the joint conference at Atlantic City. They said that as rapidly as conditions on any portion of the border are considered by Gen. Funston to justify the withdrawal of the troops it is the department's intention to bring home additional regiments and release them from federal service.

Approximately 100,000 National guardsmen will remain on the border when these five regiments with a total strength of about 6,000 have been withdrawn. The regiments will start home as soon as transportation facilities will permit and in all probably will be at their state muster out point by Thanksgiving.

Plans Already Under Way For Feasting Boys

Although nothing definite has been arranged so far, plans are already under discussion for a rousing welcome to La Crosse's returning soldiers when they get back from the Texas border. That a big banquet will be held for the officers and men, to be attended by the citizens generally, is regarded as practically certain.

Mayor A. A. Bentley took up the question Friday morning, and was working on arrangements for a feast to which the city at large should be invited, with special attention to the families of the boys. It will probably be held the day after their return.

It was also suggested that, should the boys return before November 30, a big public Thanksgiving Day feast be held for the soldiers.

Thanksgiving Proclamation Set November 30

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Calling upon America to "contribute out of our abundant means" to the relief of those living in belligerent nations "upon whom the curse and terror of war has so pitilessly fallen," President Wilson on Friday issued his Thanksgiving proclamation.

He set November 30 as the date for Thanksgiving.

THIRTY-NINE BELGIANS KILLED IN ALLIED RAID ON ZEEBRUGGE, OSTEND

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—An allied air raid over Zeebrugge and Ostend on Wednesday killed thirty-nine Belgians and resulted in practically no other damage, according to a war statement Friday. It was declared that the harbor works were undamaged.

BRYAN AND CAMINETTI TO TEMPERANCE MEETING

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 17.—William Jennings Bryan of grape juice fame and Anthony J. Caminetti, commissioner general of the Immigration Bureau at Washington, are the stellar performers on the program for the annual meeting of the National Women's Christian Temperance union which opened here Friday.

The chief work to come before the meeting will be a discussion of ways and means to keep up the bombardment on congress in favor of a national prohibition enactment.

The opening address was made by Miss Anna A. Gordon of Evanston, Ill., national president.

"QUO VADIS" AUTHOR DEAD IN SWITZERLAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Henry Zieniewicz, author of "Quo Vadis", died Wednesday in Switzerland, according to a cablegram to the Polish Relief committee here Thursday from Lausanne. He had been active recently in work for relief of Poland, his native country.

MILWAUKEE FILES PETITION

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 17.—Attorney Henry Killalea, representing the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, on Thursday filed in the United States district court here a petition for an injunction to restrain railway employees from suing for wages under the Adamson law.

INTEREST OF WOMEN IS TO MAKE OR BREAK PLAN FOR PUBLIC MARKET HERE

Wherever a public market has been established and conducted along proper lines, the cost of living has been greatly reduced because of the opportunity it affords farmers and other producers to come in direct contact with the consumer. If any one thing more than another has contributed to the success of the public market it has been the interest of the women, and wherever a failure has been recorded, it has invariably been due to the fact that the women failed to interest themselves.

The Agricultural bureau of the Chamber of Commerce is about to launch a public market experiment on Friday, November 24, and Tuesday, November 28, and one of the best promises of success is the fact that the women of La Crosse are showing a keen interest. It is now up to the farmer to do his share.

If these experiments afford sufficient encouragement to the agricultural bureau, it is not unlikely that a systematic campaign will be undertaken looking toward increased interest and the placing of the whole scheme upon a much larger basis next year.

The co-operation and good will of local grocers and butchers seems assured because it is a recognized fact that the establishment of public markets in other places has brought more farmers to the city to whom the local grocers and butchers have sold more manufactured and imported food products than ever before.

If the farmers will bring their produce to La Crosse and the La Crosse housekeeper will go to the market to make her purchases on the market days, La Crosse will have a public market, not otherwise.

LOCAL BOYS WILL BE MUSTERED OUT AT FT. SHERIDAN

Camp Douglas Has No Facilities for Comfortably Housing Soldiers in the Winter Time

NOT HOME FOR 2 WEEKS

At Least That Time Will Be Consumed in Details Preparatory to the Start

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 17.—The Third Wisconsin regiment, which has been ordered home by the war department, will be mustered out of service at Fort Sheridan, Ill. This point has been selected as the mustering out point for Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana regiments. Adjutant General Holway was in Chicago Friday arranging the details from the Wisconsin end.

Previous to this order, the state department had made all preparations for mustering out the troops at Camp Douglas, providing facilities that would make it possible to take care of the troops in zero weather. It will take from one to three weeks to muster out the regiment, according to the adjutant general's office.

That the troops cannot be started home for at least two weeks is the belief here. Eager as the Third Wisconsin is to get back home, there are many details to be attended to before they can break camp at San Antonio. Chief among the obstacles is the lack of railroad facilities, which must be assembled for the journey. No date has been even tentatively set for the move, but it is believed that the soldiers will be brought home for Thanksgiving Day if possible.

Dispatches received in La Crosse Friday morning from officers of La Crosse commands, informing their families that the regiment is ordered home, suggested that the soldiers will be taken to Fort Sheridan, twenty miles north of Chicago on Lake Michigan, for muster out of the service. Fort Sheridan is one of the largest army posts in the west, and at present is practically deserted by regular troops. It has large barracks capable of housing many times the number of men in the Third Wisconsin, which can be warmed and made comfortable for the men during the wait for discharge.

It is indicated in private advices from the border that the Third will be sent home via Chicago. This is taken to corroborate the assertion that the troops will be taken to Fort Sheridan for the muster-out.

No Warmth at Camp Douglas

Camp Douglas is entirely without winter arrangements. The men, returning from the border, would have to bring the tents they have been using on the hot Texas plains and pitch them in the snow without so much as stoves to warm them, according to Lieut. W. H. Ruplin, former second in command of M company, who discussed the situation Friday with a Tribune representative.

"It will take at least two weeks to muster-out," said Mr. Ruplin. "The actual discharge of the men is a minor detail. They are drawn up by companies and dismissed. But every piece of property in their equipment and that of the companies has to be inventoried and re-checked before turning it in to the government. The red-tape is enormous, and it takes weeks. Then every man has to be re-examined by the medical staff, in order that false pension claims will not be put through after discharge. They are examined as

BURGESS DENIES HE INTENDED TO KILL DETECTIVE

Says He Only Wanted to Escape Officer and Take Train for Milwaukee

DENIES PULLING TRIGGER

Police Testify That Young I. W. W. Member Admitted Attempt to Shoot; He Had White Plague

The jury in the Burgess case was still out at 3 o'clock, the case having been committed to them shortly after 11.

Coughing from what he declared to be a hopeless case of tuberculosis, Howard W. Burgess, 19, I. W. W. member, denied in circuit court Friday morning any intent to slay Detective Daniel Deneen when he poked an automatic gun against his stomach on the north side last summer. He had only intended to scare the officer into letting him go, Burgess swore. He said he knew the gun's safety catch was locked, and that it would not explode.

Says He Admitted Intent

Detective Deneen himself, Chief Webster, Detective William Fitzsimmons and others testified for the state, declaring that Burgess had admitted after the affray with Deneen that he had attempted to shoot.

"What was the matter with that gun?" Fitzsimmons said Burgess asked him the day after his arrest. "I pulled it three or four times. Why didn't it go off?"

Burgess denied the conversation.

Burgess and the officers agreed upon the manner in which he came into possession of the weapon, which was laid with the other heavy caliber pistols on the clerk's desk, as exhibits. He said that after Deneen had arrested him in a Mill street restaurant, searched him and removed his own revolver, a man he did not know had slipped the automatic into his hand. Burgess said that he had drawn the gun on Deneen in order to frighten the policeman into releasing him, in order to catch a train just leaving for Milwaukee.

There Was No Train

Detective Deneen testified that there was no train from the Mill street station at that hour in the afternoon.

Burgess and his counsel, Robert Gordon, told the jury that at the time of his arrest he had been returning to his home in Cambridge, Mass., after a vain journey into New Mexico and Colorado in search of health. Gordon said that Burgess had an advanced stage of tuberculosis. The defendant was flushed, and following his testimony was racked by a deep cough.

WILSON GAINS 532 IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 17.—While official compilation of the vote cast at the recent presidential election was under way at Sacramento, under personal supervision of Secretary of State Jordan, official returns of all but five of the fifty-eight counties in the state tabulated by United Press showed a net gain for Wilson over his unofficial plurality of 532.

The totals of the fifty-three counties were: Hughes, 183,703; Wilson 198,482, a lead for Wilson of 14,779. The same fifty-three counties in the official count gave Wilson a lead of 14,247.

In the five counties which have not yet completed the official count, Hughes had a lead of 10,756 in the official returns. This would indicate a lead of 3,541 for Wilson in the state, on the basis of fifty-three official county returns and five unofficial.

GOPHER VILLAGES APPEAL FOR COAL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 17.—Seven Minnesota villages on Friday sent Minneapolis coal dealers personal appeals for coal. Similar appeals have resulted in getting sufficient coal to give each consumer one-half ton. The coal famine is unprecedented and much suffering is anticipated.

LABOR OPPOSES ANY RULINGS AGAINST CALLING OF STRIKES

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 17.—Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention on Friday unanimously endorsed the executive council report which condemned all proposed compulsory plans under which either a strike or lockout declared before the federal investigation had been completed would become a criminal act.

The Canadian arbitration plan was suggested to President Wilson as a solution of the railroad crisis when strike was threatened recently.

The resolution asking for a commission to investigate the high cost of living was adopted without debate.

DEUTSCHLAND RAMS TUG IN ATTEMPTED ESCAPE AND FIVE ARE DROWNED

Diver Reported May Be Convoy For Deutschland

NEW LONDON, Nov. 17.—A report was received here Friday afternoon from Plum Island that a strange submarine with a gun mounted on deck had been sighted toward the midway Connecticut shore near Bartlett's reef, Long Island sound.

The vessel was visible, according to the report, through a light snowstorm.

A report later from Plum Island said the submarine had disappeared. Whether she submerged or left by the surface was not stated.

Many here believe the strange craft was the war submarine which had been expected as a convoy for the Deutschland. It was argued here that, inasmuch as the Deutschland reached this port just seventeen days ago and that it requires just that length of time for a submarine to take the trip across the Atlantic, the meeting of warcraft and merchant vessel might have been arranged by this schedule.

CAMPION DEFENDS COUNTY SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

Principal Declares Cost per Student Is $128.06, and Not Nearly $300, as Reported in the Oltman Report

SAYS SCHOOL IS VALUABLE

Extension Work, He Says, Reaches More People in the County Than of All Other Schools Combined

The report of County Superintendent of Schools B. F. Oltman presented Wednesday before the county board that it costs La Crosse county nearly $300 for the education of each student at the La Crosse County School of Agriculture and Domestic Economy, read during the light led by Chairman R. W. Davis for the discontinuance of the school and the establishing of a tuberculosis sanitarium, was refuted Friday by Principal T. H. Campion of the school at a dinner served to the entire county executive force on a junket to the county institution. Campion presented a report defending the school and saying the actual cost last year per student to the county was $128.06. A spirited fight on the matter was expected at a late afternoon session of the county board at the school.

Campion advanced another argument in favor of the county school by saying the county pays annually to the support of the state college of agriculture $4,000, but that only eight people from the county are attending the college, a cost per student of $500.

In answer to repeated questions from Davis Campion declared the extension work of the school reaches more people in the county than does that of all other agricultural schools combined.

Davis asked why it was that the $3,000, which a former assistant superintendent of schools said would run the school, does not suffice. Campion said the sum would do if it were not for the large school farm and its herd of stock.

Preliminary to the meeting, Chairman Davis told of rumors reaching him Thursday that more than seventy students of the high and graded schools of the City of Onalaska have been educated free of charge at the county school in domestic economy and manual training, while other public schools of the county have been required to install their own departments in those branches. Principal Campion denied the charge, saying that last year only one girl enrolled in Onalaska schools has received training there.

The prospects of increased enrollment at the school are bright, Campion declared. He predicted an addition of fifty or more students to the enrollment next year as an answer to the allegation the school is not a success.

A sumptuous dinner was served to the junketeers by members of the domestic economy classes of the school. The county board adjourned after the Onalaska meeting until ten o'clock Tuesday.

The roads committees will sit to hear proposals for the bonding of La Crosse county for the repairing of the Mormon Coulee road from La Crosse to Stephan's place, and also the widening of the road over Irish hill.

REPORT TUG TRIED TO STAY RUSH OF STRANGEMOTORBOAT

Captain and Four of Crew of Tug T. A. Scott, Jr., Dead; Deutschland Believed Not Damaged Badly

ACCIDENT IN THE RACE

Tug Attempted to Swing Ahead of Submersible in Foggy Darkness; Boat Sinks Three Minutes After Being Rammed

NEW LONDON, Nov. 17.—An attempted dash to sea by the German merchant submarine Deutschland ended early Friday in a collision between the super-submersible and an escorting tug, the T. A. Scott, Jr., in which Captain Gurney and four members of the tug's crew were drowned.

The Deutschland, bound for Bremen, put back to port immediately after the collision and by 5 o'clock was again warped into her pier. She was once more shielded by the liner Willehad, her "mother ship," and the big steel net was swung into place to further guard her.

Later Friday morning a report was circulated that a mysterious motorboat tried to ram the Deutschland and that in attempting to protect the submarine, the tug swung directly in the path of the undersea freighter.

Inquiry at the pier of the Eastern Forwarding company where the Deutschland again rests, brought no confirmation of the rumor that a motorboat had tried to ram the submarine.

The Deutschland was running on the surface at the time of the accident. While there was no heavy sea the current, according to the crew of the tug Cassie, was unusually strong. Because of this and the inky darkness, the Deutschland's lookout did not see the Scott, Jr., quick enough to sound an alarm.

All lights that had not been extinguished were shaded in order to make escape for the Deutschland easier. This added to the difficulty in keeping the distance between the boats.

The race is about five miles due south of the Thames' mouth. Work was immediately begun by a small army of workmen to learn the extent of the submersible's damages as a result of her second collision during the present trip. She smashed into a pier when she made her start from Bremen and was held up ten days for repairs.

In Treacherous Race

The collision occurred in the treacherous stretch of water between Fisher's and Little Gull islands, known as the Race. The water there is 250 feet deep. A strong current, sucked landward and seaward, through the narrow stretch at the mouth of Long Island sound, makes it one of the danger points in that vicinity. The tug T. A. Scott, Jr., attempted to cross the Deutschland's bows while the Scott and the tug Cassie, acting as rear guard for the submarine were steaming along at twelve miles an hour.

No Chance to Get Boats

There was a splitting crash and a great hole was torn in the Scott, Jr.'s side. She broke in two and sank within three minutes. The crew had no chance to reach the lifeboats. Captain Gurney, in the wheelhouse, is believed to have been crushed to death.

The four sailors who went down with Gurney were all below decks, trapped like rats. They are Engineer William Caton; Edward Stone, fireman; Eugene Duzant, deckhand, and Clarence Davison, cook.

Hinsch Barely Rescued

Captain Hinsch of the Eastern Forwarding company which owns the Deutschland, was aboard the Scott, Jr., and was thrown into the water. Sailors from the Deutschland leaped overboard and dragged him on the submersible. He was nearly dead from shock and cold.

The tug Cassie's men helped in the rescue of other members of the Scott Jr.'s crew and steamed back with the Deutschland.

Since the Deutschland came back here under her own steam, it is not believed she sustained any serious damage. Hurried examination led Eastern Forwarding company officials to believe she would be ready for sea again in a few days at most.

The Deutschland's cargo included $2,000,000 worth of crude rubber, nickel, zinc and silver bars and several sacks of mail from the German embassy at Washington.

Deutschland arrived at New London just sixteen days ago without escort. The cargo she brought in was variously estimated at about $10,000,000 worth of dyestuffs, chemicals and securities.

Rumor Diver Escort

As the big boat went out rumors again were revived regarding a possible escape.

CASH REGISTER IS RIFLED WHEN DRUG STORE IS ENTERED

RUSHFORD, Minn.—(Special.)—Old Hicostolvin' doubtless was responsible for a theft which occurred in this city last Wednesday night. When Fred Larson, clerk at the Kierland drug store in this city, came to his work Thursday morning, he discovered that a rear window of the building had been pried open, and investigating still farther, found that the cash register had been robbed of $7.50. So far no other thefts from the store have been found. A stout screen has usually protected the outside of the window which was opened, but just by chance, the screen had not been put in place lately; a fact which no doubt had been duly noticed by the miscreant.

Local and Personal

Harry Larson, a painter of this city, had the misfortune, recently, to step with his whole weight upon a rusty nail at his work and is now compelled to take a vacation from his work on account of blood poison in the injured member.

Myrtle, the little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gynther Overland suffered a severe accident last Monday evening, when in playing with her sister, she fell from a couch, breaking her collarbone. Medical aid was at once summoned and the child is doing as nicely as can be expected. Mrs. Kent and little son, who have been guests of Mrs. Moore and daughter of this city for the past week, returned to their home in Chicago last Tuesday.

The members of the O. E. S. of this city have planned a banquet for the Lewiston lodge; the merry-making to take place tomorrow, or Friday evening.

GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER HATCHERY OF COFFIN AT HOMER

HOMER, Minn.—(Special.)—The private fish hatchery of W. F. Coffin of this place has been leased by the government and buildings will be erected on the river-front and a hatching trough installed. The Coffin hatchery is located just east of the present government buildings. Spring water from the newly acquired property will be used for trout hatching purposes. The many trout streams near here can thus be stocked by people in this vicinity. GOVERNOR AFTER THE BIG BUCKS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 17.—There are certain uninformed persons in this prosperous commonwealth, it seems who are under the impression that Emanuel L. Philipp is governor of Wisconsin.

To correct the erroneous idea there is herewith presented no less a personage than Miss Sadie Lavin, twenty, petite, and pretty.

She is the real governor of Wisconsin. At least she was Thursday. For the rotund gentleman who received so many votes last Tuesday as the head of the republican state ticket, is up north somewhere hunting bucks. And Secretary Lawrence Whittet is with him.

CITIZENSHIP APPLICANT SAYS "WEARING OF THE GREEN" NATIONAL SONG

DENVER, Col., Nov. 17.—"The Wearin' of the Green" is America's national song, the emblem of the Emerald Isle is the flag of the United States and the emperor of Austria is elected by popular vote, in the belief of Frank Smrcka, applicant for citizenship papers at Sterling, Col. Smrcka said he had walked thirty-two miles to get his papers. He did not know who Woodrow Wilson is.

Mrs. Ingeborg Hansen, another applicant, was also unable to answer the questions. But evidence showed she had given the country three good American citizens—her children. District Judge Burke admitted both to citizenship, waving technicalities, holding that "Uncle Sam should adopt these people."

TAFT CAN'T GET WILSON ON EX-PRESIDENTS' CLUB

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17.—An attempt to increase the membership of the "Ex-President's Club of America" met with failure, according to William Howard Taft, member in good standing.

"The two living members had not been able to agree on much for some years," said Taft. "They met last summer and agreed, however, to have another member. They failed. He is still on the waiting list."

LACRESCENT WANTS BETTER GRADEDOWN HILL TO LA CROSSE

LA CRESCENT, Minn.—(Special.)—Property owners in both Winona and Houston counties have petitioned for a new road down the La Crescent hill on the way to La Crosse, said road to be better graded than that already in use. Notice to this effect was served on the Winona county board of commissioners last Wednesday. A hearing will be held before Judge George W. Granger on January 18, at 2 p. m. The road, which is one and one-quarter miles long, starts at the top of the hill in Houston county.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 17.—The Santa Fe will be as ready for a strike January 1, and as determined to fight the strikers, as it was a few months ago when a nation-wide strike threatened the country." E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe, said here Thursday.

GET TOGETHER FOR THE NATION'S GOOD

Recounts and delays notwithstanding, it is pretty well settled that we are going to have "Four years more of Wilson". Whether or not that is for the good of our souls, remains to be seen. Possibly much of the worry with which some of the larger business interests viewed the outlook in case of the president's re-election, was based upon administrative acts not unrelated to the fact that a campaign was in prospect or in motion.

In any event, this is true. The country has exactly the same grave problems to face that would have confronted it had Mr. Hughes been elected. Many there were, although not a majority, who believed him better qualified to meet them than is Mr. Wilson. They sought to elect Mr. Hughes, and were prepared to lend him loyal support in his administration. Now, since it was not merely to elect Mr. Hughes, but mainly to meet these problems, that furnished the motive of Mr. Hughes' friends, there remains to them that which they can not fail to regard as the next best thing.

That thing is to assist President Wilson in every way, just as they would have helped Mr. Hughes had the latter been elected.

Any other course falls short of patriotism. No man who truly realizes the gravity of national business affairs, but who plays politics for the cheap privilege of saying, "I told you so," deserves to enjoy the confidence of his fellows. There are times ahead in which all the wisdom, courage and loyalty of a united citizenship will be needed, and to give them fully and freely is the first duty of true Americanism.

MEASURED UP TO THE BIGGEST "JOB"

We can not dismiss Mr. Hughes from mind without reiterating some things that we insisted upon during the campaign. His feeling and tendencies were progressive—that is from the record. He would have made a good president. He would not have been controlled by men having axes to grind. Indeed, we've a notion that these very gentlemen of predatory political inclinations would have been the most surprised and grieved group of citizens who ever went to Washington for an executive hand-out.

It was the "old guard" that defeated Mr. Hughes. They had the party organization, hence his association with them was perforce. It was the failure of progressive republicans to disassociate the candidate and the machine that spelled his ruin. It is probable that the gravest error made by Mr. Hughes was that he played to hold the conservative vote, trusting that the progressives would understand.

In one way, we believe, many men who supported Mr. Hughes will find in the calm of normal reflection a source of relief. It is improbable that another justice of the supreme court will leave that high position to enter a political campaign. The contrast between the dignity of the bench and the atmosphere of the stump was too great.

NEW SWINDLE ON FARMERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—In the wake of the farm loan law there has developed a new swindle, the farm loan bank said, selling farmers stock in joint land banks through fake farm loan associations formed principally to furnish to promoters and stock salesmen the wherewithal to eat and sleep and go to an occasional show.

The board has passed regulations intended to stop the sale of stock by fake associations. The regulations state that no joint stock land bank shall be recognized when money has been spent on its promotion, and forbid recognition of the banks until organization of the federal land banks.

Swindlers, the board said, have operated by selling the farmers $50 shares in farm loan associations for

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

Feminine Truthfulness
A detective was praising the truthfulness of women.
"If war bulletins were as truthful as women," he said, "we'd have a better idea of how this world struggle is really going."

"I remember a case the other day—it's interesting in its revelation of woman's truthfulness—the case of a husband who had disappeared."

"Questioning the wife, I said to her:

"And now, madam, tell me—this is very important—tell me what your husband's very last words were when he left."

"His last words," the truthful creature, answered with a blush, were, "For heaven's sake, shut up..."

He Was Prepared

The manager of a western playhouse has a system all his own. Whenever he sees a man coming in with too much of the alcoholic spirits abroad he tells him there was a mistake in selling the ticket, as it had already been sold, and that the patron can get his money back at the box office. This little fiction, as a rule, works beautifully to all concerned. The other night, however, proved to be an exception when a big burly fellow, who had partaken too freely of the cup that cheers, stumbled into the foyer. The manager gave him the regulation spiel.

"I knew you were going to say that," hiccupped the fellow. "You did that once before, so I bought another ticket. Here it is."—Everybody's.

THE TRIBUNE'S DAILY TRAVELETTE

(By Miksah)

CHIMAYO

The age of miracles is past, but maybe that is only on account of the passing of the age of belief. At any rate, in the year 1916 A. D. an old woman who had been paralyzed for twenty years was hauled by her relatives in a wagon to the shrine at Chimayo. As they were driving away, the old lady suddenly remarked that she could walk, and climbed out of the wagon and proved it. When some effort at investigation was made, it was found that the principal character in this incident could not be definitely located, but the story had spread up and down the land and gained wide credence among the natives.

Chimayo and its shrine are in the United States of America, in the state of New Mexico to be exact. The English newspapers of Santa Fe and Albuquerque had thus the rare experience of chronicling a miracle among the News Jottings From Up the Valley. This incident was not the first achievement of the sort that the shrine could lay claim to, but only the latest and most spectacular in a long series. Among many of the Mexicans at least a belief in the supernatural powers of the shrine is firmly rooted.

An interesting and likable old village has grown up around the church. It is one of the most isolated little hamlets in the world, and the inhabitants have kept their quaintly primitive character better perhaps than any other of our Mexican citizens. Their dim little adobe houses, their ree-hive ovens, their creaking old wagons tied up with hay-wire, always on the point of falling apart but nevertheless managing the rockiest journeys—none of these things has changed at all in the last fifty years. Even the wagons look as if they might date back to the 1790's.

The church is the quaintest and most attractive of all. There is a child-like quality about it that wins the heart. Like all adobe houses it is surfaced annually with fresh mud, and this mud is dabbed on in free-hand fashion, resulting in a make-made effect that reminds one of children's play-houses. The cramped interior with its crude clothed figures of the saints has the same quality. And wet with all its patchwork and make-shift, the church is full of a very real reverence and belief.

"I care for you," he rushed on, laying his hand on her knee. "Oh, Nelly, you will never know how much." He choked on a sob and was silent, fighting for his self-control. "Tomorrow, you're going," he went on after a moment, "and what'll become of me? Nelly, I tell you, without you there's no world—for me, no Heaven and no God, only hell."

"Reuben, Reuben," she whispered, all atremble to be in his arms. He stared before him a moment in the darkness. Behind them, somewhere in the great house, a window was raised, and they heard the catch of the lock as the screen was drawn into place. Off across the lawn, beyond the stables and the meadows, came the whistle of a freight train and the night vibrated with the jarring of its passing. Then Reuben put his elbow on his knee and his chin in his hand, while his other clung to her gown, like a small child fearful of losing its mother. She heard his strangled sob and caught in the darkness the quiver of his broad shoulders.

"Ah, Reuben, don't," she pleaded, laying a hand on his shoulder and leaning toward him in an agony of misery. "Reuben, please, I do care—so much."

He turned on her and crushed her to him fiercely, getting to his feet and dragging her with him. "Nelly, Nelly," he cried, kissing her hair, her face, anywhere he could find, on her eyes, brow, mouth, and she clung to him in an ecstasy of surrender, conscious only that she loved him and he loved her.

After a time his senses came back and he questioned her with the incredulous joy of the accepted lover. "Sweetheart, you love me?"

"Ah, Reuben," she cried, clinging to him. "Say it," he begged. "Tell me, dear heart, that you love me."

"I love you," she whispered, and felt him tremble as he pressed her closer.

Long they stayed there in the shadows, now sitting on the horse-block, hand in hand, his arm around her, her head in blessed comfort on his shoulder; now standing, clinging to each other in the joy of their confessed love; now walking up and down, his arm always around her, her small hands clasped in his. At last she dragged herself away and he followed her to the great front door, where a moment they clung and kissed, then parted. Nelly to creep through the silent house to bed, Reuben to walk and wait, through the grounds, across the meadows to the open country beyond.

Vera was asleep as Nelly slipped into the room and the younger girl did not turn on the light but crept to the open window and curled herself up on the window-seat, too excited to sleep. Long she sat there, gazing out into the darkness, the cool night wind in her face. Slowly her ecstasy passed, slowly the reaction of worn-out nerves began. Try as she might, she could not help but see Mrs. Rubenstein, big and fat and common. She saw the small boy in her arms, with his comical little Jewish face, and her soul sickened. Back in the old country, the rest of the brothers and sisters, what were they like? Peasants, ignorant, illiterate. And what of the father, whom she had never seen, but who, Reuben had told her, had a fine job in a pawn-shop? Gasp! For breath like one drowning, she raised her hand to her throat and her tortured thoughts rushed on. What, after all, was Reuben but a servant? Not only in position, but in bringing-up, in birth? She could understand, low sometimes, after terrible misfortune, Ricky and his class might have to take a menial's place, but that was different. They themselves were not menials and as soon as possible they would stop doing the menial work. With Reuben, it was no shame, no lowering of himself and his ideals to do low work. He and his were menials. They might rise, becoming wealthy, become refined, with the inevitable refinement wealth brings, and then be worthy of her and hers, but now they were servants and the shame that she could stoop to love him nearly killed her, there in the dark. She could smell in fancy the garlic which she always associated with his family, she didn't know why, and could see the loaves of Kosher bread they ate. Then she remembered her promise that as soon as she was free she would marry him. It wasn't he whom she would be marrying, but his family, who ate with their knives, who poured their tea into their saucers to cool it and then drank it from the saucers, the washwomen and the butchers!

Like a startled animal, she leaped to her feet and stole silently, noiselessly, from the room. Somewhere in the great dark silent house, a clock struck three. Quickly she sped down the hall and flew up the second flight of stairs, groping for the banisters by the faint light from the great windows. Breathlessly, she ran along the wide hall to the room which Ricky, Tommy and Sammy were forced by the size of the family to share. But not wishing to disturb the last two, she did not knock, but gently turned the knob and pushed the door open. A moment she hesitated, glancing from bed to bed, at each sonorous sleeper, then reassured that none was about to wake, she stole to Ricky and seized his arm, shaking him gently, firmly, persistently.

"Ricky, Ricky," she called in a whisper of agonized haste.

"Huh," grunted Ricky, suddenly aroused and sitting up. "Huh? What is the matter?"

"Ricky, huh, it's I," pleaded Nelly. "Get up. I'll wait for you in the hall. Come as quickly as you can."
She hurried out, and presently, half dressed and wholly dazed, he joined her at the alcove where she waited.
"Oh, Ricky," she cried, catching hold of his arm, "take me away from here!"
"Yes, indeed," said Ricky promptly, drawing her to him. "Don't fret. Nelly, we will go directly after breakfast is over."
"I want to go now," cried Nelly sobbing. "Oh, Ricky, take me now."
"There, there," soothed Ricky. "We can't go now, dear—"
"We can, Ricky. There is a milk train at five. We can catch it."
"Our trunks—"
"Oh, Ricky, I can't wait. We can each take a suit-case and send back for the trunks. I have to go. I must. I can't see any one again. I want to get away while it's dark, before he knows I'm going."

$5,000,000 LOAN MADE BY CHICAGO BANKERS TO CHINA

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Chicago stepped out Friday as a new factor in international finance, with the announcement that a $5,000,000 loan has been made to the republic of China by Chicago bankers. This is the first large international loan to be made without the aid of New York financiers. The Continental & Commercial bank here made the loan.

The loan is for three years at six per cent. It is a direct obligation of the Chinese republic and is secured by revenues derived from that country's tobacco and wine taxes.

Arthur Reynolds and John Jay Abbott of the Continental & Commercial bank, and Dr. Y. K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese minister, signed the contract which was drafted by Levy Meyer, attorney for the bank and who also acted in an advisory capacity to the Chinese legation.

Secretary of State Lansing read the contract and announced that the department of state was gratified to see the republic of China receive financial assistance from citizens of the United States.

Trade opportunities of unlimited dimensions will be opened up by the loan. The territory into which the money will go is unworked, and Chicago bankers expect many loans to follow the one just made.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BENEATH THE BONNET

BY DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When Mary Anne was told that her father had accepted the position of lodgekeeper out on the Chigwell's estate she wanted to shout aloud her delight. Instead, she flung her arms around her father's neck and thanked him.

"I know you have done it so that I can be in the country and paint," she told him softly. "I can paint, and paint, and paint!" she laughed joyfully at the prospect. "and between daubs I can open the great gates for the Chigwell carriages to pass through."

The retired officer smiled at his daughter's delight. He had realized for some months that the roses were leaving her cheeks and that her painting was suffering. She was first and foremost a landscape painter, but trips to the country for sketching were too expensive. Tom, his son, was unable to live in the country because of the long hours of his position demanded of him. Anne had kept the small flat in town for her brother and father most cheerfully. Nevertheless, Major Wells knew that she was slowly pining away in the confines of the city.

"Tom can keep the flat, so that when you and I get tired of the country we can come in. He can be your agent and sell all your canvases for you." The major was looking forward to the change from city life as much as his daughter. A means whereby he might be a help rather than a hindrance to his small family had long been a problem to him. The post as lodgekeeper had suggested itself when a friend had told him of the place at Chigwell House.

Mary Anne could not silence the scream of delight that burst from her lips when Chigwell House lodge first dawned upon her vision.

The lodge looked like nothing so much as an overhung basket of trailing vines. Up the chimneys, over the doorway and all around the windows Virginia creeper and honeysuckle rioted. Beside it a small thatched pigeon cote added an extra touch of beauty. A number of white fantails peered down to see who the new lodgekeeper was.

"Isn't it lovely?" questioned Mary Anne breathlessly. In her mind she was already becoming a great artist—famous for the sketches she would make of Chigwell House grounds. "We will never want to go to town, dad, you and I," she added.

Major Wells was busy writing a

Manufacturer of Famous Medicine
Tells Ingredients, So Public Can Appreciate Pure, Reliable Medicine.

Many people fear to take medicine to check and abort colds, cure coughs, catarrh, etc. This fear is groundless with all the products of The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio. Not one contains opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs. Mentho-Laxene, for coughs, colds, catarrh and all distress following a cold, is a compound of Wild Cherry, Tolu, Cascara, Grindelia, Menthol, Ammonium Chloride, and alcohol sufficient to preserve and keep in solution.

Every ingredient is in concentrated form and the medicine is so strong that only ten-drop doses are to be taken in the "raw" state. But the ideal way is to make into a syrup by mixing a 2½ oz. bottle of Mentho-Laxene into a pint bottle and then fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made by dissolving a pint of sugar in a half pint of boiling water. It is said by thousands that this makes a most effective home treatment for all cold troubles. The manufacturer guarantees it to please or money back. Sold by all good druggists.

book on the "Military Age," and it was more often than not Mary Anne who ran down to swing open the great gates that the carriage might pass through. Always she slipped her big blue sunbonnet quickly over her tumbled curls and kept her head timidly bent, while the carriage drove either into or away from the estate. Mary Anne knew, however, that the master of Chigwell was decidedly good to look upon. Had she been a portrait painter she would have longed to put his strongly modeled face down on canvas. As it was, she was more than content to sketch from the lodge windows, and the canvases she sent into Tom to sell for her were little gems of color and treatment.

The little sketches began to sell. One or two flattering checks found their way from Tom to Mary Anne. He became quite reasonably proud of his artist sister. The major only nodded his head in approval. He felt grateful for the chance he had got to put her into the surroundings necessary for her development.

It was in an art shop on Fifth avenue that Chigwell caught sight of an exquisite sketch of the rustic bridge that spanned a tiny stream behind the lodge gate. There was a bit of the fir grove, a small thatched pigeon cote and two wonderfully white fantails perched gracefully on the rustic bridge.

Chigwell drew a breath of surprise. Without stopping to look at anything else in the window he went inside. There was no doubt in his mind that some artist had been trespassing on his estate and sketching without his permission. The art dealer brought forth the sketch with the pigeons.

"Who is the artist?" he asked casually, not wanting to betray his reason for inquiry.

"The pictures are signed 'Mary Anne'—that's all. I know nothing about the artist. An agent brings them to me. I want all I can get of 'Mary Anne's' work. They are wholly charming—all of them."

Chigwell was puzzled. "When next that agent comes in just get his address for me, will you?" he asked.

Mary Anne had been rising with the sun. There was a bit of rose arbor backed by tall sentinel fir trees that, in the early mist of morning, was of unearthly loveliness. Mary Anne succeeded in getting that atmosphere of mistiness that caressed the flowers and the grass and the fir trees down on her canvas. The roses were like tiny ghost blossoms peering softly through a curtain of dawn. The sketch was a poem in color.

Even untemperamental Tom quite held his breath upon seeing it. He carried it proudly into the art shop on Fifth avenue.

"I've got a peach this time," he said with his genial smile.

The art dealer agreed. Later he got Tom's address and held the painting greedily in his own hands until he should himself place it in the window.

Chigwell was so curiously interested in the artist who had trespassed on his estate that he dropped in at the shop daily. When he saw the glorious little ghost rose picture he took it as greedily as had the art dealer. He bought it, ordered a wonderful frame for it and went up to the address given him.

Tom beamed with brotherly pride when questioned by Chigwell about Mary Anne.

"She's my sister," he said, "and lives out at a place called Chigwell Lodge." The name meant nothing to him, for John Chigwell had chosen to withhold his name.

"That is not possible!" he exclaimed. "I know every one on the estate."

"She lives there just the same," said Tom.

Chigwell left the flat and Tom Wells more mystified than he had been for many years. It was not until he remembered the slim figure at the gate that it occurred to him that perhaps it was the lodgekeeper's wife who painted. He had never speculated as to what lived under the blue sunbonnet and the simple gown

"The Power behind the Dough"

Ask your grocer—He knows of blue gingham. Now he pondered. He stopped when his carriage had driven through the gate and knocked at the lodge door. Mary Anne hurried from her post at the gate and stood quietly beside Chigwell.

He gazed under the blue bonnet, and hoped his amazement was not too obvious. The eyes looking out at him were wide and misty and altogether wonderful. It was many years since Chigwell's breath had been caught so suddenly.

"Can I come in?" he asked. Mary Anne's heart beat in sudden fear. Were they to be told to move and lose the joys of the country?

Chigwell had no sooner stepped within the cottage than he saw at a glance that the blue bonnet girl was the artist. Paints, palettes and sketches lent delightful confusion to the lodge interior.

"I did not know until I bought a beautiful little landscape today that we had an artist—living beside us."

Chigwell said, expressing himself with a smile that quite won Mary Anne's heart. The major came in and Chigwell extended a hand to him. "I have been discovering your daughter's genius," he said simply.

After that Mary Anne was asked to make various sketches about the lovely grounds. An exhibition was held in the handsome rooms when sufficient work had been accomplished. Mary Anne soon became known.

Major Wells continues to write within the lodge and his daughter still paints from the wee casement windows and to add glory to her name.

Mary Anne still runs out to the gate and gazes from under the blue bonnet toward Chigwell as he enters the gate in his carriage. Instead of running back to the lodge, however, she is swept in beside him and his arm is about her as they drive to the big house. He has every privilege where Mary Anne is concerned.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach
—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother.
If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undig-ested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today
know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it di-gests food and sets things straight,
so gently and easily that it is really astounding. Please, for your sake,
don't go on and on with a weak,
disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATAR-RAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know someone who is troubled with head noises, or Catarrhal Deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor
sufferer perhaps from total deafness.
Recent experiments have proved conclusively that Catarrhal Deafness,
head noises, etc., were the direct cause
of constitutional disease, and that selves, sprays, inhalers, etc., merely temporize with the complaint and seldom, if ever, effect a permanent cure.
This being so, much time and money
has been spent of late by noted specialists in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet
effective tonic that would quickly dispel all traces of the catarrhal poison from the system. The effective prescription which was eventually formulated, and which has aroused the belief that deafness will soon be extir-
pated, is given below in understandable form,
so that anyone can treat themselves
in their own home at little expense.
Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Par-mirt (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it 4 pint of hot water and 1 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns. The system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show
the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore,
there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.
Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial.

TRAIN KILLS FARMER

SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 17.—Peter

guard for the road and was walking the tracks when hit.

MANY FIRES; SMALL LOSS

BELOIT, Wis., Nov. 17.—During

four fires in which the losses were nominal.

RED LIPS AND HEALTH

The first place that anemia, or thin
blood, shows is in the lips and gums
and the membranes that line the eye lids. You may be naturally pale and still be healthy but when these membranes lose their bright red color your blood is deficient in quantity or color.
Thin blood is a danger. It invites disease. The organisms of the blood fight off disease germs. Thin blood means less power to do this. For instance, when you cut yourself it does not heal so quickly if your blood is thin and weak.

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood"
and "What to Eat and How to Eat,"
give just the information that every mother of a growing girl needs. They are free. Write for them today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

Two Here On Furlough
 Two men in La Crosse were more than ordinarily interested in the order for movement of the Third from the border. They are Private James C. Hogan and Private Ambrose Coughlin, both of Company M, who are at home on furlough. Since the order was given for the troops to leave the border, these men have been wondering whether they will have to make a long trip to join their company or whether they may remain at home.

Private Hogan, whose furlough expires the twenty-fourth of November was all ready and intended to leave this evening for the border but since the order for returning home was given, he does not know if it will be necessary for him to leave or not.
 Private Ambrose Coughlin whose furlough expires on December 11, may find, he expects, that the boys are home before his leave expires.

MERCHANTS APPROVE UNION DELIVERY AND PAY-UP CAMPAIGN

Another Dollar Day and a Fashion Show Are Among Plans Mapped by Bureau

A co-operative delivery system and a campaign to educate La Crosse consumers to pay their bills promptly were among the projects endorsed by the Merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held Thursday evening in the W. B. U. hall. A comprehensive program of work was mapped out by the bureau for the winter and spring, the following suggestions being officially O. K'd and adopted as items of the bureau's future activities:
 Spring Dollar Day.
 Buy-at-Home campaign.
 Window Trimming contest.
 Fashion Show.
 Nationally Advertised Goods week.
 Co-operative delivery system.
 Pay-up campaign.
 The pay-up campaign and the co-operative delivery system were presented to the merchants by a resolution of the retail grocers association, which was brought to the meeting by L. E. Lavague. Both propositions received the endorsement of the bureau, and the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to assist the grocers in carrying out their plans.

The co-operative delivery system project was put forward as a means of great saving to both consumer and dealer by reducing the overhead on carriage of parcels. It was pointed out that wagons of all merchants daily traverse practically the same path. Such duplication of service, it was alleged, is too costly. It was declared that a more efficient service could be obtained at less cost by combining.

What Would You Call Main Street?

What would you suggest as a name to replace Main street?
 Chairman R. W. Keyes of a Chamber of Commerce committee selected to make recommendations for the change Friday asked the city at large to send in their suggestions. Mr. Keyes himself is inclined to the name "Washington" after the famous governor from La Crosse.

One Grove cemetery will no longer be blazoned on the sides of the La Crosse street line of street cars. At the suggestion of Mr. Keyes' committee, it was said Friday, the company has agreed to change to the more cheerful title of Myrick Park line.

EMPLOYEES LOOK TO WILSON TO INSURE THEM THE EIGHT HOUR LAW

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 17.—Confident that should the Adamson eight-hour law fail, President Wilson will provide another measure which will insure trainmen an eight-hour day, heads of the various brotherhoods here Friday scouted the possibility of a general strike in January.
 Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said that if the Adamson eight-hour law was knocked out trainmen looked to President Wilson for an effective substitute.
 Possibilities that the strike vote taken last summer would not hold good for a strike in January loomed up and brotherhood officials said this would have to be determined at a meeting to be held in Washington on Monday.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.
 Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.
 Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

A Great Discovery

Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

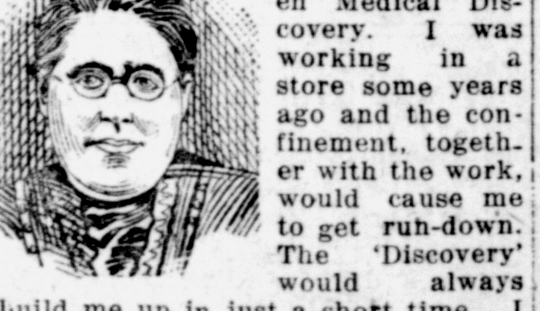

As a remedy for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation caused by uric acid—as scalding urine, backache and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gout, it is simply wonderful how quickly Anuric acts; the pains and stiffness rapidly disappear.

Take a glass of hot water before meals and Anuric, the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo.

Step into a drug store and ask for Anuric, many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar.

A WISCONSIN WOMAN SAYS

Madison, Wis.—"There is no better tonic than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I was working in a store some years ago and the confinement, together with the work, would cause me to get run-down. The 'Discovery' would always build me up in just a short time. I have also found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets to be equally good. I once used the 'Favorite Prescription' for woman's weakness, doctors did not help. I was ailing for about two years with this trouble and the 'Prescription' cured me in six months and no trouble since."—MRS. MARY JOHNSON, 8 S. Blair Street.

LA FRANCAISE ANNIVERSARY

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The feminist paper, La Francaise, recently celebrated its tenth anniversary. The work which the paper has done for the women's cause in France is incalculable. It was instrumental in founding the Cercle de la Francaise, which in its turn led to the Union Francaise pour le Suffrage des Femmes and the Congress Permanent du Feminisme International. Mme. Jane Misme, the editor of La Francaise remarked recently that while in other countries the women's movement had been the outcome of the efforts of women teachers, in France it was the women's movement, or rather a small group of feminists belonging to the "petite bourgeoisie" who first claimed the right of education and freedom to work.

NEW THEATER FOR NEGROES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 17.—A theater devoted largely to the development of dramatic art among Negroes is to be built at Broad and Lombard streets, on a lot 78x92 feet, by a New York firm now operating such places in New York, Baltimore and Washington. The site is one occupied by the United Presbyterian church. This edifice has not been in use, except infrequently, and was sold to the amusement company for $100,000.

Search Deep For Cause of Rheumatism

Authorities Say, Treat It Through The Blood, You Can't Rub It Out!

Whether your trouble is Sciatica, Lumbago or the dreaded Articular Rheumatism, the answer is the same. You must treat it through the blood. WAR TEARING VEIL FROM HAREM WOMEN EDUCATOR DECLARES

BY GEORGE MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—"War is bringing the Turkish woman, feminine mystery of the ages, out of the harem and from behind her veil. And when she stands revealed the world will be astounded at her superior intellect and progressive spirit," said Miss Mary Mills Patrick, president of the Constantinople College for Women.

"Our centuries old curiosity about the veiled women of the harems," (she pronounced it "har-eems"), "is about to be gratified."

"How they live, what they think, what their dreams may be is gradually unfolding in the general upheaval in Europe today. And these things will not at all be what we Americans have pictured them."

"Our idea that life in a harem is one continuous debauch could not be further from the truth. The women of Turkey as a class, are splendid women. They are not frivolous nor petty nor empty-minded nor dull."

"The veil and the secluded life are no more acceptable to the Turkish women than they would be to a stenographer in Chicago or a dry-goods saleswoman in San Francisco."

"They do not countenance immorality and fast living any more than millions of good women in the United States, and their standards are quite as high and noble as those of any woman in the world."

"These women, particularly as to their brain capacity and self reliance, are greatly misunderstood by the men and women of America. As a class they possess an unusual degree of intelligence and initiative, and when they have fully come into their own the world will be astounded at their high station."

WOMEN LEARN HOW TO BATTLE FOR THE BALLOT

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 17.—This is the "first week of school" for the suffragists from many parts of the United States attending the suffrage school opened here under the auspices of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

Classes in political organization, public speaking, suffrage history and argument, legislative and federal work, and press and publicity are now in full swing and the ardent "pupils" are deep in the lessons of suffrage campaigning.

A model open air meeting will be held in the streets of Baltimore at which suffrage speeches from a decorated automobile, heckling crowds, and all the other features of such a gathering were demonstrated.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National association, will address a large public meeting Friday night. The school will close on Saturday.

The Baltimore school is but the first of the series that the National association will open throughout all the non-suffrage states, suffragists in many parts of the country having asked for a short course of this kind. Mrs. Catt has arranged to have one school in each of these states to prepare the workers for the 1917 campaign.

PLAN REORGANIZATION OF WESTERN MARYLAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Directors of the Western Maryland Railway submitted to the stockholders a plan of reorganization of the property necessitated by a top heavy funded debt coupled with a period of unsatisfactory earnings.

It is planned to organize a new company to take over the present, to eliminate $18,000,000 of the funded debt and to segregate the company's coal properties. The shareholders will be asked to authorize a new first and refunding mortgage for $150,000,000, first preferred seven per cent stock to the amount of $18,000,000, second preferred non-cumulative four per cent stock amounting to $10,000,000 and $50,000,000 in common stock.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Museum of Daily Facts and Freaks

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The real secret of W. J. Bryan's visit east is to have his portrait painted for the department of state building at Washington. Irving Wiles will do the work and Uncle Sam will foot the bill.

NEW YORK.—Although there were plenty of lakes handy, Cosmo Pennise chose a train to dive under.

The train went over him and scratched his knee. Pennise lived in Brooklyn and he wanted to die.

NEW YORK.—Arthur D. Gibson's only comment on the fact that a hard hearted highwayman took his false teeth along with his other valuables was "I hope they bite him."

WOOSTER, Ohio.—Old man Wood has come back. Hickory logs and long unused fireplaces are in favor in the face of prohibitive coal prices.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—He ye bald-headed men. Those bald pates are worth $1,000 apiece, at least that is what Jacob Baer asks as damages for an accident which gave him a bald pate.

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—Ordered by his landlady to take a bath or leave Jacob Mitchler, 73, went to his room and shot himself, probably fatally.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—"In the chimney, a burglar," Samuel Rabonowitz excitedly told two patrol wagon loads of policemen. They smoked out a poor, shivering little owl.

CHICAGO.—Charles H. Sorget will

CHICAGO.—Five pounds of ice cream a day makes three square meals a day for a workman, Dr. Walter G. Bain of Springfield, Ill., told ice cream makers here.

DETROIT, Mich.—This sign was posted in a Detroit saloon: "I'm tired of having you ask what I'm going to do when prohibition takes effect. The question is: 'What are you going to do?'"

"WHITES" AND "BROWNS" FIGHTING ON BORDER

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—The lower Rio Grande valley was being invaded by a hostile force Thursday.

The "Brown" army, composed of militia and regular army units, was attempting to seize a large section of this district from the "white" army, with headquarters in Llanos Grand, 66 miles west of here. About 25,000 soldiers are engaged in the practice maneuvers, representing the national guard of nine states.

The "Browns," under command of Brig. Gen. H. A. Allen of the Iowa brigade started its invasion from this city. The "whites" under Brig. Gen. E. M. Lewis of the First Minnesota infantry brigade, must defend the territory bounded on the east by the Gulf of Mexico, on the south by the Rio Grande, on the north by Halingen and on the west by Llanos Grande.

Every move will be closely guarded from newspaper men by specially appointed censors. The maneuvers are expected to last two weeks.

New friends and old enemies are not above suspicion.

FRONTENAC HURRIES DOWN THE RIVER TO ESCAPE WINTER ICE

M'GREGOR, Iowa.—(Special).—
With the Mississippi full of floating ice the excursion steamer Frontenac
and the big dancing barge Mississippi which have been in northern waters this summer pushed their way down the channel past here on Thursday morning on a hurry trip to southern waters to avoid being caught in the ice for the winter. The near zero weather of the last few days has put a sudden end to the use of the river. The McGregor-Prairie du Chien ferry usually in operation until Thanksgiving has been placed in dock for the winter and all other motor boats have been taken off the river.

The boats of a party of McGregor
duck hunters who went up Yellow river for a few days' camping and hunting were frozen in the ice
when the river closed during the night and will have to be left there until a thaw comes or be brought across country by team. The river is unusually high for this time of the year.

In contradiction to the indication that severe weather so early in the season seems to give of a hard winter, the trappers say the muskrats
are building their houses very low,
a sure sign that the winter will be mild. Many of the rats are working most industriously just now constructing their winter quarters in the lakes opposite McGregor. Dr. J. A.
Walter who has a summer cottage on Bergman Island found his boat landing sunk in the water yesterday and on investigation discovered that a family of muskrats had built a house inside of it and that the weight of the mud and clam shells used in its construction had dragged the dock under the water.

Lycium Course

McGregor will have a Lycium
course this winter of five numbers.
The first entertainment will be a concert by the "Musical Guardsmen"
on Saturday, November 21. Following there will be a lecture by Lou Beauchamp on December 2; a concert by the Gray Lhevinne Company
on January 27; a concert by the Mt.
Vernon Singers on February 12, and a lecture by Ralph Bingham March
2. F. G. Bell is secretary of the local Lycium committee and has charge of the entertainment course.

Local and Personal

The merchants of McGregor will hold a Bargain Day on Saturday, November 5. Every merchant in town is advertising special bargains in different lines of goods for that day and it is expected a large crowd
will be brought to town to take advantage of them. This general bargain day is an innovation here and the merchants will watch the results with interest. Special entertainment features will be a part of the day's program.

Clayton county may have an interurban line. Word has come that the St. Paul Southern now running from St. Paul to Hastings where it is said to be paying out, is built to within thirty-five miles of Rochester and is headed for Decorah at the present time. From Decorah it is planned to build the line on to Dubuque. This would bring it through Clayton county.

Work has begun along the storm
sewer south of the Triangle park,
the outlet to the drainage of the valley. A cement wall will be built as a protection and a cement slab over the opening.

SYSTEM IS NEEDED

There Is No Reason Why a Man Should Not Eat What He Wants if He Uses His Brains.

Wm. Boice, eighty-three years old,
some little time ago indorsed Tanlac after taking only one bottle, since then he has taken three more and wants to add more to his former statements. Mr. Boice lives at 1021
S. Fourth street. He said to the Tanlac Man:

"You know about three weeks ago
I told you how much improved I was from one bottle of Tanlac, now I want to tell you how much good
three bottles more have done me.
I had to be treated as a child on account of my weakened condition that rendered me helpless.

"After taking three bottles I got up from my chair unassisted, and walk around the room. On November 7th unassisted I walked from my home five blocks to the polling place
and cast my vote and returned home,
took a nap in the afternoon and retired at night, arose the following morning without any soreness or stiffness in my limbs from the extra exertion of the day before. This after being a cripple from swollen, aching limbs for eight months and not even able to feed myself.

Can Now Laugh and Dance
"Tanlac took me from a bed of pain and I can now dress myself,
walk around where I feel inclined,
beat a patter with my feet which were swollen out of shape such a short time ago.

"I am going to walk down to Be-gun's Drug Store some day soon and show the public the wonderful benefit I have received from Tanlac."

It is almost possible to believe in fairies after reading this most remarkable demonstration of what Tanlac has helped to accomplish.

Mr. Boice invites the public to call at his home if they are interested and he will tell them more of his relief.

Tanlac can be obtained here only from C. A. Begun's Drug Store.
Tanlac can also be obtained from
Geo. H. Seidel at Sparta.

HAWAIIAN MUSIC AND DANCE LEADS NEW VARIETY BILL

The Lono Hawaiians promise a special treat of the variety season
when they come to the La Crosse theatre Saturday and Sunday to feature a snappy vaudeville bill in a program of Hawaiian songs, instrumental selections on the famed Hawaiian instruments and, native dances, which are now the one big craze of the pleasure seeking east.
The troupe consists of five Hawaiian men and a pretty island girl. They come to La Crosse direct from Chicago and other larger cities, where they appeared as headliners on prominent bills.

Van and Pearce come to the local house in a comedy skit they call
"Get a License." The pair are notable fun producers, and their laughing sketch is one of the bright spots of 1916 varieties. The Four Milanos are billed in an original and novel gymnastic number, in which they employ a lot of comedy, to the enjoyment of any audience.

Jack Lamey will be another special attraction on the program in
"Just For Fun." Lamey is as funny
by himself, as most vaudeville teams.
The bill will consist of five acts, in all, and the latest in Pathe news pictures.

"THE SALAMANDER" FOUNDATION OF JOHNSON'S SUCCESS

Few names are more potent among those acquainted with American letters at the present day than that of Owen Johnson, novelist, the author of the "Dink Stover" stories, among other well-known books. And chiefly Mr. Johnson's reputation rests upon his startling novel, "The Salamander,"
which opened the eyes of the effete east to a new and distinct type of young womanhood, the product of the great cities.

It is seldom that the moving picture audiences have such excellent material laid before them as that upon which is based the film version of Johnson's most remarkable book.
And it is essentially not a "highbrow" offering. It is not tedious philosophy committed to the screen without action to render it virile and gripping, but a racing, dashing drama
of adventure in the modern Bakdad of New York.

An excellent cast, and extraordinarily careful attention to detail of its settings, makes "The Salamander"
one of the month's best opportunities in the flicker palaces. It is showing today and Saturday at the Casino.

WARNER FILM AT MAJESTIC CLOSES RUN ON SATURDAY

H. B. Warner and Miss Dorothy Dalton, stars of Triangle pictures, will close their screen engagement at the Majestic Saturday in "The Vagabond Prince," a production accredited by critics in general with being one of the best Triangles of the year.
Interest is shown by increasing audiences at the Majestic since the picture came on Thursday.

Warner has the part of a wandering monarch, or rather the prince who leaves his palace to mingle with his subjects. The theme was suggested by the adventures of King Albert, of the Belgians, who came to America incognito and for a time worked as a reporter on a Twin City newspaper.

Through the plot runs a touching love story. Never thinking that he was a king, a pretty dancing girl falls in love with Warner, and Warner does likewise. The wedding ceremony is progressing when three dignitaries, who have discovered the whereabouts of Albert, interrupt with
"Long Live the King. Your father is dead."

FAT PEOPLE CAN REDUCE WEIGHT

Fat men and women who would like to reduce their weight by 10 or 15 pounds should try a little Korein with their meals and note results. Here is a test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Korein—one capsule with every meal and one before retiring—for a few weeks.
Then weigh and measure again. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many fat men and women we believe can easily take off from five to eight pounds in the first 14 days by following this simple method.

Korein does not of itself reduce flesh, but mixing with the food, it aims to assist the fat-burning elements of the blood to use up and consume the extra fat in all parts of the body.

Agent for Nettleton Men's Shoes—the World's Finest

Customers: We will be obliged if you will make the following statement to your good customers with reference to Nettleton Shoes:

Shoes for Fall and Winter, 1916-1917, have been produced under conditions never before paralleled in the history of the trade. The scarcity of materials and the greatly increased cost of everything entering into shoemaking have rendered it absolutely necessary for the manufacturer to increase the price of his product or lower its grade. Needless to say the standard of Nettleton Shoes has been upheld for 40 years. Our slogan "Economy Through Quality" is a guarantee not only of absolute satisfaction in appearance and comfort, but of actual money-saving value through long wear.

SONS OF EX-PRESIDENTS TO CLASH AT PRINCETON

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 17.—Two sons of ex-presidents, Charles Taft and Richard Cleveland, will be on opposing football teams Saturday when Princeton and Yale clash at Princeton stadium. He is said to have been promised a chance to share in Princeton's last and most important game of the season.

M'DEAVITT BACK TO PUT PEP IN PURPLE

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Purple stock was on a high pinnacle Friday because the war department has favored Northwestern. Uncle Sam has spared Captain Elmer McDevitt of the Minnesota national guard from border duty during the remainder of the football season so he can help the Evanston warriors in their battle for the "Big Nine" championship.

GOPHERS CONFIDENT ON EVE OF SCRAP WITH THE BADGERS

HARVARD AND BROWN TIGER AND BULLDOG TO CLASH IN EAST

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Four football teams, fed on raw meat and gunpowder, took their last lessons Friday in the well known art of committing mayhem and getting it by the referee. Yale's blue clad warriors were to make a New York hotel the scene of their slumbers Friday night as they paused on their journey into the jungles of Princeton for a bout with the tiger. At Cambridge Harvard is all primed for a meeting with a certain eleven from Providence, called Brown, but which in reality is admitted to be a shade darker than that color.

Looking at the intercollegiate affairs from a prophetic standpoint, isn't the easiest thing in the world. In the first place, Brown always considers it somewhat of a task to prevent Crimson sweatered Harvard students from crossing the Brown goal line. Down at Princeton they've always been obsessed with the idea that anything that wears blue has an inherited right to score touchdowns against the Orange and Black.

FOUR SOCCER GAMES

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Four games in the series for the soccer championship of the United States will be staged here Friday. All teams are of Chicago, except a Joliet squad.

When we say to you, "Don't make up your mind about the car to buy until you have seen the 1917 Stearns-Knight," we say it with full knowledge that such a demand upon your time must be justified. TEDDY IS GOING TO VISIT THE SOUTH SEA

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Although the Fiji and the Polynesians of Samoa don't know it yet, their respective islands are due for a tilt, and the South Pacific for somewhat of a splash, so to speak, next February—T. R. is going to visit 'em.

It is understood this trip is to constitute the colonel's vacation after the campaign labors he undertook in the interests of Charles E. Hughes. Mrs. Roosevelt will accompany the colonel.

WEBER ELECTED BY TWENTY VOTES IS OFFICIAL RETURN

John A. Weber defeated George McDonald for sheriff of La Crosse county by twenty votes, according to the complete returns, including the soldier vote, announced by the official board of canvassers on Friday.

With the exception of Surveyor Henry Lueth, who has only prohibition opposition, Weber led the democratic county ticket. Andrew E. Thompson led the republican slate with 4,450 votes and District Attorney Schlachach was second on the republican slate with 4,133.

Kurtenacker beat Wolford for the assembly, first district, 2,133 to 1,591. Freehoff beat Davis in the second district 1,886 to 1,403.

The socialists polled approximately 300 votes in the county, but their candidate for district attorney, Frank Withrow, received 1,263.

TRACTION MAGNATE IN WILL DISPOSES OF $350,000 ESTATE

Largest Bequest Is $65,000 Left to His Widow, Mrs. Ella C. Edwards; Son Gets $55,000

TRUST TO GRANDCHILDREN

Four Young People Are Bequeathed $30,000 to Be Held for Them Until 1940

An estate valued at $350,000 is bequeathed to heirs of the late Benjamin E. Edwards by a will filed for probate in county court on Friday. Mr. Edwards' estate consists of $50,000 real estate and $300,000 personal property. Eugene O. Edwards, Hettinger, North Dakota, a son, Grace Edwards, a daughter, and Attorney Andrew Leas are named as executors and trustees of the estate by Mr. Edwards' will.

The sum of $65,000 is bequeathed to Mrs. Ella C. Edwards, the widow. Mr. Edwards' son was left $55,000. The sum of $45,000 is left to Mr. Edwards' three daughters. They are Grace, Helen L., and Ann K. Edwards. Clara Osborne, a cousin of Mrs. Edwards, is bequeathed $2,000, and Bessie Osborne, also a cousin, the sum of $1,500.

Mr. Edwards designated that he desired the sum of $25,000 left to the La Crosse Home for Friendless Women and Children. Thirty thousand dollars is to be set aside for E. Theodore Edwards, Eleanor Edwards, Benjamin A. Edwards, and Helen Catherine Edwards, grandchildren. Interest from the money is to be divided among them and on January 1, 1940, the sum is to be given them.

The residue of Mr. Edwards' estate is to be invested by the executors and trustees for all of Mr. Edwards' daughters and his son.

VAN HISE WARNS MEN MAY ATTEMPT FURTHER 'HOLD-UPS'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Warning that railroad men may "hold up" congress at the next session if they are successful in the present Adamson eight-hour law controversy was given Friday by President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin to the National Council of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

A new angle in the fight of the railroads was presented to the department of justice officials Friday when it was learned that in suits filed at Milwaukee, pleas were made to enjoin railroad employees from collecting wages under the law.

Burlington and Milwaukee File
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 17.—The Burlington line Friday afternoon introduced into the federal district court an injunction restraining the operation of the Adamson law. Simultaneously the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul attorneys introduced similar papers in the Minneapolis district court.

TOMMY STRANGLES WIFE CHARGED WITH INFIDELITY

BY J. W. PEGLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, Nov. 3.—(By Mail).—The domestic tragedy of Lance Corporal Richard Cunningham has centered official scrutiny on a new phase of the slacker's character. Cunningham is charged with strangling his wife whom he had accused of infidelity while he was on the western front.

The accused soldier wrote to the London chief constable beseeching the officer to save his home and voicing a soldier's hatred of the type of slacker who had betrayed him. "I write you from the trenches of France," said the letter, "to ask why this type of man is not doing his bit. Several times lately I have received reports of a man visiting my home and sometimes stopping all night, while I am here at the front in answer to my country's call. It is shameful such men should be left at home while we are out here month after month, in rain and mud, taking our turns under fire that England may be safe. Why hasn't this man been called for service?"

"I never get letters any more telling me about my little son. The suspense will drive me mad. Sorrow is all I can look forward to when the war ends. If this man can run about with other men's wives, he can come out here."

But unless the corporal can defeat the cold evidence against him, the stern English law will enact full penalty. Cunningham, it appears, got leave, went direct to his home, confronted his wife with his suspicions and strangled her to death. He was found in a swoon across his wife's body, the baby son toddling about, cooing with happiness over his father's return.

Cunningham's letter is in the hands of his commanding officer and may result in the wedding out of treacherous stay-at-homes.
